SPOKANE, Wash. (November 11, 2024) Foster Garvey is pleased to announce the expansion of its Municipal, Health & Housing practice with the addition of Andrew Schillinger as Counsel.

Andrew brings more than 20 years of experience in health law and health care compliance, serving as both a health care attorney and compliance officer. He has been an advisor to hospital systems, physician practices, academic medical networks, health sciences professional education programs and diverse clinical therapy practices. As Assistant Attorney General for the Washington State Office of the Attorney General, he provided in-house legal services to Washington State University, where he was honored with the Excellence Award from the Attorney General in recognition of outstanding performance. Prior to his role as Assistant Attorney General, Andrew oversaw the compliance office for Providence's Washington and Montana service areas. Andrew has also served as the Director of Risk Management & Compliance at Inland Northwest Health Services where his role also included being the HIPAA privacy and security officer.

"We're thrilled to welcome Andrew to the firm," said Allison Schwartzman, Municipal, Health & Housing Practice Group Leader at Foster Garvey. "His comprehensive experience in health law — from compliance to risk management — and his collaborative approach to solving complex legal challenges will enhance the services we provide to our clients."

Andrew holds a J.D. from Gonzaga University School of Law and a B.A. in Politics from Whitman College.
